FAT BOY DIET

Home Style Reducing Diets Don't Work

By ELMER WHEELER

"HOLD ON to your hats, boys—here we go again!" That's what I should have said to myself. There I was, all ready to start dieting again, just like I done three times a year ever since I first noticed that I couldn't stand up straight and still see my feet.

—Dieting again, just as I'd done dozens of times before. I was an old hand at it now. I knew all the angles.

I dug out my old diet books. Brushed up on my calorie charts. Put a digest of what to eat and what not to eat in my vest pocket and I was on my merry way.

I NEVER BOTHERED with seeing a doctor or a diet expert. I already had all the answers, so why spend money to have someone else repeat them to me?

No need to see a doctor, I told myself. All I had to do was cut out sugars and starches, as the books say, and do push-ups.

Best exercise in the world, pushing yourself up from the table.

All I was eating was one real meal a day now. How could anyone get fat on just one meal a day?

Why, I was eating like a bird. Couldn't help but lose weight. It was plain and simple logic.

I cut all salt out of my diet.

My breakfast now was merely a double orange juice (a fellow's system needs fruit, of course), three slices of rye bread (nothing fattening if it isn't white, I figured), some peanut butter, jam and black coffee. No cream or sugar.

Still the typical dieting fatty, who makes a profession of it, I didn't eat a single thing for lunch. Well, that is, nothing heavy.

Just a large bowl of split pea or cream of chicken. A handful of crackers.

Then a sandwich. Nothing heavy about that, certainly. A glass of milk—it's all liquid, isn't it? No pies. Not me.

Somehow I managed to get through the days. Each night I would rush home, fall weakly on the divan, and wait for dinner.

Bother, how I ate! But why not? One meal a day couldn't hurt a fellow, could it?

My diet spree was in full swing now.

I kept right on pounding away at the pounds. Give 'em no quarter, was Elmer's motto.

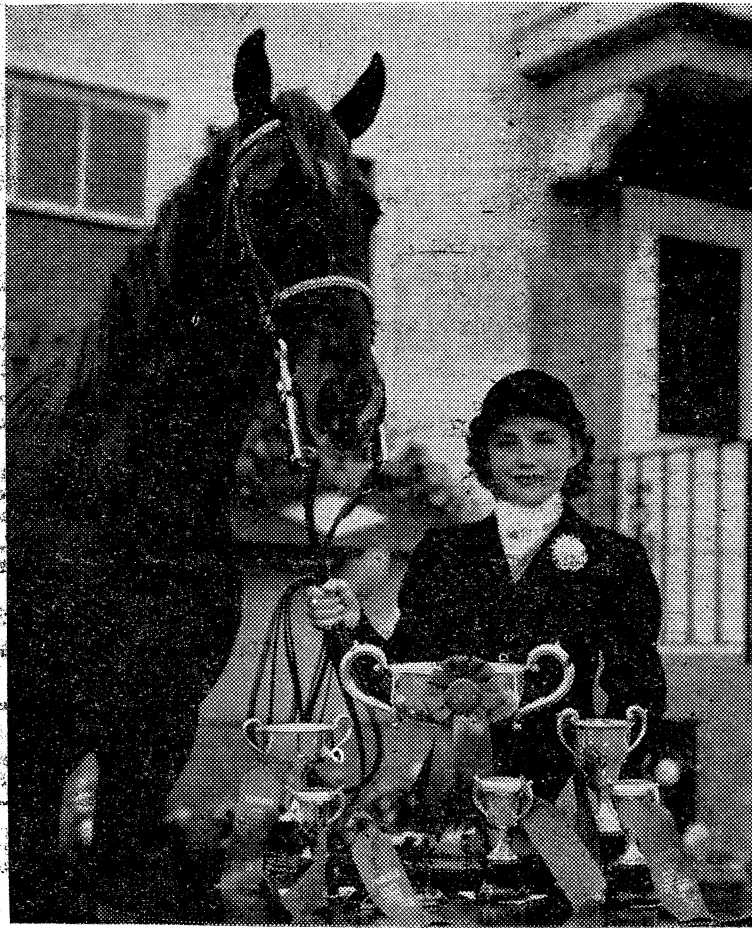

Never let up. One meal a day, no heavy meals till night. No sugars, no starches.

Years ago I had learned you should never weigh yourself every day, because if you found you hadn't lost five more pounds every time you stepped on the scales you felt disappointed.

So I waited to weigh myself at the end of three full weeks, when the results would really show.

It isn't until you're down 10 or LAC LA BICHE — The teachers of the Lac la Biche School Division No. 51 held a successful convention on Oct. 14 and 15 at Dr. Swift School, Lac la Biche, Alberta. Thirty-eight teachers attended.

ness, Faculty of Education; Mr. Eric Ansley, Alberta Teacher's Association; Mr. C. Merkley, Supt. Athabasca School Division; Miss Pool, Consulting Nurse Athabasca Health Unit; Mr. D. Bouvier, National Film Board; Dr. A. R. Shrag, Provincial Guidance Clinic; Mr. H. E. Balfour, Dept. of Education.

Pleasure and profit were obtained from the speakers. Group discussions were held in Arithmetic and Science for the elementary grades. For the High School Teachers there was an open forum discussion of the Health and Personal Development Course.

PIONEER LANDMARK SOLD; MRS. O'COFFEY RETIRES

MCMURRAY — The Franklin Hotel at McMurray will change ownership on Oct. 20, having been purchased by Mr. J. Wagner and Mr. J. Ostolosky. The Franklin Hotel was owned and operated by one of the pioneer families of McMurray, Mr. and Mrs. Frank O' Coffey.

Lac la Biche Is Headquarters For Teachers' Assn.

LAC LA BICHE — Four district conventions will be held in northern and central Alberta within the next week, according to Eric C. Ansley, general secretary-treasurer of the Alberta Teachers' Association. The conventions are four of 17 scheduled for various centres throughout the province this fall. All are sponsored by the A.T.A. and are conducted by local convention committees.

Lac la Biche was host to fifty teachers of the Lac la Biche A.T.A. local on October 14 and 15. On the same dates teachers from the locals of Vegreville, Vermilion and Wainwright met at Wainwright, and on October 20 and 21, Camrose will be host to teachers from the locals of Camrose, Provost-Hardisty and Killam.

Lawrence G. Thomas, member of the faculty of education, Stanford University, was guest speaker at Lac la Biche, Red Deer and Camrose. Dr. M. E. LaZerte, former dean of the Alberta faculty of education, will speak at Vermilion.

Lac la Biche teachers will also hear H. E. Balfour, provincial director of school administration and Mr. Ansley, who will represent the A.T.A.

Miss H. P. Christopherson represented the department of education at Red Deer and H. T. Coutts represented the Alberta faculty of Education.

At Vermilion, department representative was W. E. Frame, chief superintendent of schools, and Fred J. C. Seymour, assistant secretary of the A.A., represented the sponsoring body.

The Dr. Swift School. The children were trained by Sr. Blais and Sr. Fournel. The dances were beautifully done and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Among officers elected were Mr. L. G. Hall, honorary president; Mr. F. McMillan, president; Mr. R. Marriner, vice-president; Mrs. A. Coast, public relations.

A banquet and dance were held on the evening of the 14th. The blessing was asked by Rev. D. Greenough, and the guest speakers were heard from again in lighter vein.

You might try going to church next Sunday; you can't blame the heat much longer.

Mr. and Mrs. O' Coffey first came to McMurray in 1917, leaving in 1918 and returning in 1924, when they opened the Franklin Hotel, which has been operated by the family ever since.

Mr. and Mrs. O' Coffey had four sons, Desmond, now in Medicine Hat, Alberta; Patrick, who was killed in action while serving with the Edmonton Royal Rifles in Sicily in 1943; Edward of Spokane, Washington, and Lowery of McMurray Lumber Co., McMurray.

Mr. O' Coffey, Sr., died in February, 1945, and Mrs. O' Coffey has very ably carried on the responsibility of the hotel.

The community gained much by the help and co-operation of the O' Coffey family; all organizations have profited by their kindness and generosity, the Chamber of Commerce, IODE, Anglican WA, Catholic Women's League or HNS, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and Brownies—all were welcome in their home or hotel to hold meetings, sales of work and bazaars.

As a pioneer lady, Mrs. O' Coffey remains a beautiful example of constant effort towards the betterment of the community and the prosperity of all her northern friends.

The CWL, of which she was president for many years, has prospered under her energetic direction. During the war years she saw that every service man from the community received regular parcels.

The church to which she belongs is particularly grateful for the substantial donation made on occasion of the sale of her property.

We are certain to express the sentiments of all citizens of McMurray in wishing Mrs. O' Coffey much health and happiness in her retirement and we all hope to see her often.

Northern Alberta Hereford Club To Hold Sale Thursday, October 30

The Northern Alberta Hereford Club's second annual fall Female Show and Sale will be held in Edmonton, in conjunction with the fall sale of the Edmonton Exhibition Association from October 28 to 31. The judging of the animals will take place at 10:00 a.m., Wednesday, October 29th, and the auction sale will be conducted at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 30.

Twenty-five entries have been accepted for this select Female Sale. The breeders contributing are as listed:

Charles C. Daniel, Entwistle, 1; Mike Ilchuk, Vegreville, 5; Charles J. Kallal, Tofield, 2; B. C. Carpenter, Kinsella, 4; H. Hawkins & Son, Strome, 2; J. S. Cross, Fairmillion, 1; D. M. Kennedy, Fairview, 4; Stuart Fenton, Irma, 4; Fernie Velzil, Owls Eye Lake, 1; S. J. Warshawski, M.D., Chipman, 1.

All the above animals have been vaccinated for Bang's or have been blood tested within thirty days prior to the date of Sale. The Northern Club is leading the way in the sale of Bang's free animals, but it is believed that this protection is of the utmost importance to the prospective purchaser. In buying quality animals, it is really worth a great deal to the purchaser to feel that he can buy clean animals from which he can expect production.

The Northern Club is being highly honored this year to have as judge of the Show, Mr. W. G. (Wilf) Edgar, Innisfail, one of Canada's outstanding Hereford breeders, and president of the Canadian Hereford Association.

The Sale this year will undoubtedly be the finest to date. Many of Northern Alberta's best breeders will be represented. All the animals will be selected to high standards and the entry is large enough to attract many interested buyers.

T. Carson Drowns As Car Goes Through Bridge

LAC LA BICHE — Roger Ketleson, one of the drillers for Hon Drilling here last summer, was with his uncle, Theodore Carson, driving his car, when crossing a bridge over Beaver Creek, one mile north of Chipman, the car dropped through the bridge into six feet of water, Carson was trapped in the car and drowned. Roger escaped injury, suffering only from shock.

Dr. M. J. Kuzyk, coroner of Vegreville, stated no inquest would be held. Chipman is 45 miles east of Edmonton.

Prevent Whooping Cough

In this poliomyelitis year, there may be some tendency to ignore another disease highly dangerous to children, especially infants— whooping cough. The important points are, first, that it is deadlier than polio, and, secondly, that an effective vaccine is available. Vaccination can be obtained free at a public health centre—at the city clinic in Edmonton—or at little cost from the family physician. No child nowadays need be menaced by whooping cough.

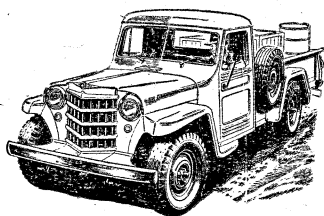

It is a menace, without this protection so easily obtainable. Among children under two years, it takes a higher toll of life than polio, diphtheria, measles and scarlet fever combined. It is fatal to eight out of ten infants under one year who contract it. To put it somewhat differently, whooping cough in recent years has killed twice as many children as has diphtheria, three times as many as measles, five times as many as scarlet fever, and six times as many as polio.

Despite the availability of the vaccine, the numbers of whooping cough cases and deaths in Canada in 1950 were the highest in five years. This need not be. Full advantage should be taken of the free protection offered here and throughout the country.

ANNOUNCE WINNERS OF 1952 MASTER FARM FAMILY AWARDS

Winners of the Master Farm Family Awards for 1952 were announced by Hon. David Ure, minister of agriculture. This is the fourth year of the Alberta Master Farm Family program.

These are Alberta's Master Farm Families for this year:
E. R. Lewis Family, Winterburn.

John Lambert Family, Manning.
John Skrypitsky Family, Mundare.

J. H. Schmaltz Family, Beiseker.
Jesse Cole Family, Clive.

Each family receives an award of $1,000, an engraved plaque and a name plate for the farm entrance.

The main objective of the Master Farm Family Program is to provide Alberta farmers with a practical demonstration of how a family can achieve success in farming and living with each other and their community. The program is intended to emphasize the advantages of the farming vocation and the dignity and satisfaction of farm life. Through the program, farm youth gain a clear understanding of the high ideals of agriculture and learn of the opportunities offered them in agriculture.

"Good Farming, Right Living and Clear Thinking is the slogan of the Master Farm Family Program," Mr. Ure said. "We try to find farm families whose life has been guided by these principles. The families we are honoring this year are outstanding for their achievements in agriculture, home-making and citizenship."

Interest in the program continued keen this year with 32 families being nominated for the awards, approximately the same number of nominations as last year.

Candidates must be Canadian citizens who have operated a farm either as owner or lessee for 20 consecutive years. At least three neighbors must nominate a family and the family must agree to accept the honor of nomination.

Winners are selected on a regional basis and a provincial committee confirms the selections. Each regional committee is made up of a working farmer, a technical agriculturist, a home economist, a housewife, and a representative of the Experimental Farms. Each region corresponds roughly to one of the five Alberta soil zones.

A total of 87 factors related to the farm operation, farm life, community work and business management are evaluated in each case and points given for each factor. For each of the factors there is a possible score and the candidate's score is measured against this.

The Minister of Agriculture extended congratulations of the Alberta Government to the five families whose high achievements made the awards possible. He also congratulated the other candidates, pointing out that nomination is in itself a great honor and proof of the high regard held for them in their communities. In conclusion, he emphasized the important work done by the selection committees, without whose assistance the Master Farm Family Program would be unworkable.

Curiosity is a form of intelligence.

60 Guests Surprise Miss Joyce McKenzie With Informal Shower

GRASSLAND—A most enjoyable shower was held in honor of Miss Joyce McKenzie on Sunday, Oct. 12 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. McKenzie.

Mrs. Ray McKenzie and Miss Amelia Kaziemerszah were in charge of all arrangements. About 60 guests were successfully smuggled in and lights put out after the men hid the cars. The bride-to-be and her parents were visiting at Donatville, and came home to be met with songs after entering what they thought was an empty house.

More singing followed and games, then a mock-wedding with Mr. Bill Putnam as a most enchanting bride. His groom was Mrs. Dorothy Bjorgen. Mrs. Orval Jinkins was best man, Miss Dorothy Walter her bridesmaid. Mrs. Blanche Dakin was mother-in-law and Mrs. Ray McKenzie was father of the bride. Much laughter followed this skit.

The gifts were then brought in a gaily decorated basket by little Shirley Derko and Edna Luchka. The bride-to-be opened each gift after making a wish for the donor. Then several gifts had been hidden around the house, and much fun was had while searching for these.

Miss Ries and Miss Sorensen, former district nurses at Grassland, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben McKenzie over the Thanksgiving holiday.

Mrs. Lillian McKenzie has been staying in Edmonton this week with relations, and expects to return to Grassland on Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Ben McKenzie.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Sawchyn are making a trip by train to Chatham, Ont.

A wedding dance was held on Saturday, Oct. 18 at Grassland Community hall for Natakka Dutchak and Mr. Joe Luchka who were recently married.

Wind Tosses Granary About Like Matchbox

WAUGH—During last week's tornado, the big wind picked up a granary at the farm of Wm. Woywitka and rolled it along like a matchbox for about 70 yards, finally coming to a stop against a fence. No visible damage was done to the granary, which required a tractor to get it upright.

RCMP Nearing Full Strength

Commissioner L. H. Nicholson of Ottawa, head of Canada's famed Mounted Police, said in Edmonton recently that the force was expected to be at its full strength of 4,400 men by the end of this year.
Nicholson made a widespread tour of RCMP detachments throughout B.C., the Yukon and North West Territories.
He said a recruiting drive this year already had resulted in the RCMP obtaining 200 of the 400 men it needed, and recruiting was expected to speed up during the fall and winter months.

"Yes, thank you, they are," re-

The warden, taken aback, said:
"Oh, that's not my job; but I

At Canadians' Own Request

Planned saving became a patriotic "must" during World War II as the years of conflict dragged by. People who had never saved, money before found it possible through the succession of Victory Loan and War Savings campaigns, to lay aside money. This was done easily by those in industry and on other payrolls through monthly deductions but many thousands of Canadians without this advantage also learned to save money systematically. They began it "to help the war effort" but soon, as the nest-egg grew, began to appreciate this method of attaining a financial objective.

When the war finally ended, a surprising number of Canadians found that they wanted to continue systematic saving. They liked the method of saving in bond units because they had discovered its advantages through the long series of Victory Bond drives. Bonds were good security in the event of need of a temporary loan. They were not as accessible as other savings but cash could be obtained if necessity arose. If it did not, the gradual addition of bonds built up a safety factor for the rainy day, for retirement or for purchase of a home, farm or equipment. It was like watching a wall grow, brick by brick, but this was a wall of financial protection.

The post-war period resulted in many requests for continuance of Savings Bonds. In many instances, the requests were made through chairmen and members of local War Savings and Victory Loan committees which disbanded with the war's end. These men and women passed on the recommendation through those they had worked with in the provincial committees and, in turn, it reached Ottawa. The requests were so numerous that favorable consideration was accorded the proposal and in October, 1946, Canada Savings Bonds, Series One, was offered to the public, and each October since a further series has been initiated.

Bank of Canada was charged with the responsibility for the first and succeeding Canada Savings Bond issues on behalf of the Finance Minister. Arrangements are made for an advertising campaign each year similar to the promotion that brought the Victory Loan issues to the attention of the public but without the local committees as these Savings Bond offerings are not so much a national patriotic drive as they are an opportunity for the individual to continue or start a personal savings plan.

Canada Savings Bonds are provided in convenient and easily attainable denominations, consequently are favored by both young and old and by all income groups. Their popularity and usefulness is attested by the fact that nearly a million CSB transactions take place each year. Immediate cashability, in event of need, is one of the popular features of Canada Savings Bonds. While maximum purchase is limited, each member of a family may purchase amounts from $50 up to the maximum allowed of each issue. Each bond bears interest coupons providing an attractive rate of earnings on savings.

Again this month a new series of Canada Savings Bonds is being offered, the seventh. They are available either by payment in full or by monthly instalments or other arrangements through banks, loan companies and investment dealers. In many instances firms arrange payroll deductions to assist employees desiring to acquire bonds. As everyone has something or someone to save for, we anticipate Canada Savings Bonds will attract many more buyers this Fall as appreciation of this savings plan grows and grows.

Note and Comment

The average rainfall in Alberta from May 1st to July 31st was 8.68 inches. The average for the same period last year was 10.21 inches.

About 113 million bushels of grain, of which 103 million is wheat, was shipped through British Columbia ports, creating an all-time record for west coast shipments.

A Baseball Legend

The New York Yankees, champions of the American League and of the world, as a result of their victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers, in this year's World Series, remain a baseball legend in America and all over the world. Even those who are not Yankee fans, and who pulled for the Dodgers in the recent series, must admit that the Yankees have, as the slang expression goes, real class.

Perhaps, the Yankees demonstrated their true ability more clearly in the last days of the pennant race this year than in the World Series. Playing tougher opposition than the Cleveland Indians, who threatened to capture the American League pennant, the Yankees came through with brilliant baseball, often winning the crucial games by shut-outs or one run. In other words, when the chips were down, the Yankees produced.

There can be no doubt that the Yankees have dominated the baseball scene in the United States for the past decade, and even longer. Even when Joe Louis was in his heyday as a boxer, in the 1930's, there were cries of "Break up the Yankees!" At that time, however, a lot of fans accused the Yankees of being a lucky team. But that accusation does not stand up in the light of the happenings of the last 10 or 15 years. The Yankees are a great team, have become almost a legend, by coming through in championship form when the chips were down.

New Cars for 1953

Reports from Detroit indicate that the automobile industry is getting customer-conscious and will make a strong bid to attract buyers in 1953. It is beginning to look as if the big automobile producers will make more changes in next year's models than in any year since the end of World War II.

Chrysler is expected to put its new cars on the market in October and it is understood that there are major changes in the body designs of all four: Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler. Dodge is expected to come out with a new V-8 engine, 140 horsepower.

General Motors is offering air-conditioning units in the new Cadillacs and Oldsmobiles. Both Buicks and Chevrolets are expected to change to the V-8 type engine.

Ford expects to introduce new cars in November. While extensive body changes are not expected for the new Lincoln, Mercury and Fords, the Mercurys and Fords may have new and more powerful engines.

Hudson expects to offer a new body and also a new car in the light, six-cylinder field. Studebaker bodies are to be redesigned completely. Packard is offering power-steering and power-brakes.

In other words, it looks as though there will be plenty of competition as the 1953 season approaches. The accent, which has been on power in recent years, is turning toward comfort and the prospects are that there will be plenty of cars to go around.

Early Wheat Beats Frost

From the Winnipeg Free Press.

A. W. Manchester, Jarvie, Alberta, farmer, has developed a strain of wheat which may be the answer to the short growing season in northern Alberta. He farms in a district 80 miles northwest of Edmonton.

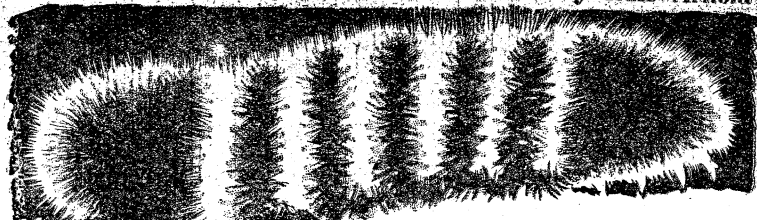

He says his wheat called "Early Harvest" matures two to three weeks ahead of other crops seeded at the same time under the same conditions.

His wheat, developed by years of patient cross-breeding, heads out seven weeks after planting and yields 40 to 45 bushels an acre. Slower-maturing varieties used by Manchester yield 60 to 70 bushels.

Voice of the People

CURE FOR COMMUNISM

Today, there is such a fear of real democracy among us that few people are prepared to discuss the question of Communism in a rational way. There are two views in your September 3 issue, one typically absurd but the other is intelligent.

A U.S. correspondent gives the view that Communism is a calculated, long range program for a Chinese conquest of Europe. This is the result of reading too many comics.

H. L. Keenleyside, speaking at the recent Couchiching conference is more to the point. He said: "Communism is the bitter fruit of social injustice and there is only one intelligent way to combat it, and that is by doing away with its causes which are the miseries of the people, economic insecurity and the exploitation of man."

It was the tyrannical misery of the old order and complete refusal to offer the people any hope that led to the desperate social upheavals in both Russia and China. People took the only way out possible.

There is only one answer to Communism, no other. It is not ruin by a suicidal war with atom and bacteria weapons that only death can win and will solve nothing. It is the proof, by principle and peaceful example, which economic system affords people the greatest opportunity for the good life and intellectual freedom, the system of free enterprise or Communism.

In Canada, it means the utilization of our great natural resources for the common good instead of this grab in the interests of monopoly and vested privilege. Exploitation and poverty should be a crime. If this is done, Canada can be an example to the world in sanity. Are the opponents of Communism prepared to do this? They are not. Their solution is a new world war, the road to catastrophe.

Husky Football Stars Visit Sick Children In Red Cross Hospital

Patients at Alberta's Red Cross Crippled Children's hospital were sure they were the luckiest kids in town Wednesday when members of the Calgary Stampeders Football team dropped in for a visit.

As sports' minded as any other youngsters, the patients could hardly contain their excitement when Les Lear, Ed. Champaigne, Stan Heath, Bob Mike and Sugarfoot Anderson made bed-to-bed and ward-to-ward calls. Cries of "Where's Sugarfoot" preceeded the party down the corridors as the youngsters vocally expressed their excitement.

Johnny Bright of the Stampeders was originally scheduled to join the party but as an appendectomy stood in his way, Les Lear brought along Bright's number "43" sweater and helmet and let the kids try them on. All were football stars for a time and their grins evidenced their thrill.

Report 121 Days Without Frost

The Federal government's experimental station at Lacombe, Alta., reported that this summer was one of the longest frost-free periods in 44 years.

The Central Alberta district enjoyed 121 consecutive days of frostless weather, compared with 77 days last year and 71 frost-free days in the summer of 1950.

The longest frost-free period in the stations' history was in 1940, when there were 136 consecutive days without frost.

Easterners Help Complete Western Harvest

The near completion of harvest can be attributed, to a certain extent, to the more than 1,100 easterners who came west to help with harvest operations. According to figures released by F. H. Newcombe, director of extension, provincial department of agriculture, the number who came west this fall exceeded that of last year, when only 987 found their way out.

Some of the workers came directly from eastern Canada, Mr. Newcombe said, and others came to Alberta after first working in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, where the harvest was slightly earlier.

"This has been the first year in some time," he said, "that the supply of harvest workers has kept up with the demand. Very few requests for workers this year have not been satisfied."

The westward movement of harvest workers is ended, with the exception of "a few workers who may drift into the province after completing work in Saskatchewan."

LETTERS TO LOUISA

Dear Louisa,
Do you think a girl of sixteen should smoke? All of my friends do.

TEENAGER.

Answer:

Don't start smoking just because your young friends have picked up a bad habit. It is bad for your health and is expensive.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa,

I met a girl while I was in school and fell in love with her.
She is all that anyone could wish as a wife.

After we had been going together for two years we were married. I had not met her family until after we were married, as she worked in the city where I was taking my medical course and her family lived in another state.

I was very disappointed in her people. They not only seemed ignorant to me, but their standards of living were bad. In other words, I simply could not enjoy being with them. I could only marvel that a girl as dainty and with as fine a character as my wife has, could be related to such people!

Now, this is my problem: My wife has no idea how I feel toward her relatives as I would not hurt her feelings for the world, but I have been offered a partnership in her home town with an older doctor and she is very eager for me to take it. I feel that this would be a mistake and I should be very unhappy there, but how can I refuse to take it when she would like it so much?

What would you do if you were I?

M. D.

Answer:

Well, first of all, I would be very honest with myself if I were you and try to find out if my wife's people were really as ignorant and unattractive as you think them to be or if you are being snobbish because they are not as prominent socially as you would like them to be.

After all, there are some mighty fine people in this world who can't afford fine clothes and expensive homes. They may not have a silver service but, on the other hand, they may be sincere, loyal people, who are kind and helpful to others.

Surely if you wife is such a fine person and loves her family so much, they must have some good qualities.

On the other hand, if they are rowdy, tough people who will interfere with your practice as a young physician, you will do well to get as far away from them as possible when you start your career.

LOUISA.

Four Years Without A Strike

General Motors President
Charles E. Wilson reports in the September Reader's Digest that GM's "progress-sharing" plan has given the company four strikeless years. The plan has a dual core:
(A) links an hour's wage to the cost of living; (B) it guarantees the worker an automatic annual increase in his hourly wage, assuring him that his purchasing power will keep pace with the nation's progress in industrial efficiency.
Scoffers once maintained that a cut in wages, when living costs went down, would meet opposition. Wilson says wages were lowered five cents an hour during 1949-50, when the living-cost index fell, and there was no walking out.

Think Rare Birds Have Offspring

EDMONTON — Prof. William Rowan of the University of Alberta's zoology department reported that at least one and possibly two of the almost-extinct whooping cranes were produced this Summer in the Peace River country of northwestern Alberta.

Prof. Rowan who completed a month-long investigation under sponsorship of the Alberta Government game branch said in a prepared statement that "there seems little doubt now that two whooping cranes were seen in northern Alberta early in August and that they produced at least one young and possibly two."

Naturalists believe there are fewer than 100 of the big birds alive today and some place the figure at less than 50.

A few days after becoming the proud owner of a new gas range, I paid a visit to my mother in the country. One morning at the breakfast table, I was expounding the merits of my stove as compared to mother's old wood range.

My sister, who was frying hot-cakes in the kitchen, called "Mother, where is the lard?" Mother answered, "It's on top of the stove. My sister, who apparently hadn't heard, asked again,
"Where did you say it is?"

My young son, who had been busily filling his plate with syrup apparently oblivious to all our conversation, called out, "She says it's on top of Old Smoky."

I was embarrassed by my son's remark, which I know hurt my mother's feelings.

DENY VISITING PREACHER GIVEN $7,000 OFFERING

CALGARY—A committee representing the 20 churches which co-operated in presenting the three-week evangelistic campaign carried on in the city recently as a "Crusade for Christ" have denied the rumor published in the Calgary Albertan which gave the honorarium to visiting Evangelist Dr. Torrey Johnson as $7,000 or more as an "irresponsible statement."

The committee issued a statement in the following terms:

"The financial policies of Calgary Crusade for Christ are being subjected to unnecessary criticism because of irresponsible newspaper statements.

"When these policies are set up and controlled by a committee of three representatives of each of the co-operating churches and organizations, including a number of prominent business men as well as clergymen; and with the treasurer being a Calgary bank manager, George Hislop, it would seem that the financial affairs of the Crusade ought not to be so ill-advisedly criticized.

"In coming to Calgary, let it be understood, Dr. Torrey Johnson was engaged by the local committee for three full weeks including the four Sundays, and the committee arranged for the two love-offerings. What people give to the evangelist under such an arrangement is regarded as the donor's own personal business. Had the crowds been poor and the offering low it would have made no difference to the evangelist—he was willing to serve on that basis without placing obligation on the local committee.

"While serving here in Calgary, Dr. Johnson was not drawing salary from his own church in Chicago, and before his offering is transferred to him Canadian income tax will be paid and deducted from it. Besides the special offering on Sunday a previous love offering was taken and the total for both was $2,700 only. Too bad it wasn't $7,000! And suppose it had been that high, it would have been the personal concern solely of the donors.

"Out of many obligations involved in a large campaign, such as advertising, printing, Pavilion rent, rentals on pianos and organ (rent on the Corral alone came to $1,200), it is gratifying to the committee that the total budget, even including the love-offerings, was under $12,000. Those responsible for the campaign feel that the excellent results obtained in lives changed, churches helped, and souls saved far more than warrant this expenditure. Jesus Christ himself indicated the worth of one soul to be more than the whole world."

Terminates Dairy With Auction Sale

LAC LA BICHE — Mr. Louis Richard went out of the dairy business after many years in the service. He had an auction sale this month and sold his 24 cows at an average of $198.50 each. New Curriculum Adopted In United Church Sunday School

LAC LA BICHE — Starting with this fall term, a new curriculum has been adopted for the United Church Sunday School to further the spiritual training of the Junior Congregation at the 10 o'clock service. It is known as the Christian Faith and Life program, and is for use in both the church and home.

It has been developed to furnish more adequate help for teachers, to provide a channel for enlistment of fuller participation by the parents and thereby to bring each pupil into a broader understanding and deeper commitment as a disciple of Jesus Christ.

It is organized around three consecutive main themes, Jesus Christ, "The Bible" and "the Church." The theme for each year is woven throughout the whole program for each department. This year the parent-teacher magazines, the home reading books and the activity material in each age group revolve around the central theme, "The Bible." In grade development the boy or girl will receive throughout the years a well-balanced study of the Bible as the living Word and of the Christian Faith with recurring emphasis upon the things that matter most in Christian growth and development.

It is departmentally graded on sound educational principles which recognize certain characteristics of language and experience typical at the various age levels, and is adapted to the needs and interests of children.

The purpose of the curriculum is to make the teaching of the Christian Faith active in the home so that in family life parents and children together may grow in the knowledge of God and in Christian grace, and to provide channels through which Christian faith and love may reach into life.

Home Reading books are introduced which are durably bound and beautifully illustrated. In each of his first six years the child receives four books. In each of his next twelve years in church he receives 12 bound volumes in all. These books are designed to be read, reread and treasured by the child as his own personal library of Christian literature.

The Christian Life and Faith curriculum was first produced by the Presbyterian Church in the United States five years ago, and was made possible through the donations of large amounts of money by interested individuals in the United States. The best writers available on the Continent in the various Reformed churches were
